Rules for the management of His Highness the Maharaja's Chattram and "Kangalarakki" at Mysore.

Kangalarakki or distribution of uncooked rice or other grain to the poorer classes of the community at Mysore.

1. This charity is intended for the relief of deserving poor of all classes.

Objects of Charity.

2. Old and infirm people of either sex, lame and blind persons and such others as may be disabled by accident, natural deformity, or incurable disease and helpless orphans.

Condition.

3. They should be in a state of destitution. The charity may be extended to Gosha women and also such helpless widows as have bona fide caste objections for out work, who being destitute and unable to earn their living, have no relations upon

they could depend maintenance.

4. The of gram should be monthly in the presence of a responsible officer, in accordance with a Register to be carefully maintained.

5. The Register should contain, among other particulars, full inform ation on the following points:—

Sir,

I have the honor to ask you to be so good as to obtain the orders of Government on the following proposition at your early convenience.

2. The Kangalarakki Charity, attached to the Maharaja's Chatram at Mysore,attempts to relieve the poor,incapable and distressed people of all classes in the City, and doles out rice allowances once a month. No distinction is made between classes habitually eating rice and those given to ragi or other coarser grain. Our resources for this

this purpose are necessarily limited, while the endless and increasing.

3. It has occurred to myself and certain of the Dharma Darsis, that by substituting ragi for rice in the case of those recipients whose usual food is rági, the allowance may be eked out, so as to mee more cases of real distress than at present.

4. To put a concrete case for the sake of clearness. When a Vakkaliga or Musalman pauper applies for relief, we can only give hi under present practice a certain ~~quantity~~ quantity of rice, seldom exceeding 30 sérs, according to his circumstances and the number of mouths he has to feed. His staple food is not rice, and when he has to supply himsel with other necessaries, he not unoften barters a portion of the rice for what he really needs. If on the other hand, we can ourselves issue rági, according to the market price at the time, equal to the value of the rice due to him, he will, it is believed, go away fuller and more satisfied, whilst no extra cost is incurred by Government. The Palace Controller will as now remain the sole authority for deciding who should get what kind of grain.

5. I trust this proposition will meet with the approval of Govt.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Palace Controller.

Mysore.

And,

Letter no 72 dated 9th November 1902, Palace Controller, Mysore, proposing the issue of Ragi for rice to certain recipients of the Charity.

R.O 1300-1 Mysr 7 51-93 Dt 13/12/02-

Order thereon:—

The "Kangalarakki" Charity at Mysore is intended for the relief of deserving poor of classes in the City, and rice is doled out every every month. The Palace Controller reports that no distinction is made between classes habitually eating rice and those given to ragi or other coarser grain, that while the resources are limited, the demands thereon are increasing, and proposes that by substituting ragi for rice in the case of those recipients whose usual food is ragi, the allowance may be eked out, so as to meet more cases of real distress than at present.

2. The proposal made by the Palace Controller to give rice dales to who use rice and ragi

to those who use
grain, seems unobj
the distribution
be made in
with the 'Kanyalarakki rules, under the orders of the Palace controller assisted by the Dharmadarsi and no extra cost should be incurred on this account.
